DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

1. Claims 1-3,5,6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Clark et al. (US 6,321,070) in view of Markow (US 5,796,854).

Regarding claim 5 Clark teaches a portable radio apparatus (see figs. 1 and 2) comprising:

Art Unit: 2682

a radio circuit (see col. 8, lines 62-67); a speaker (see fig. 13, item 1206); and a shield case disposed to cover the radio circuit for shielding the radio circuit from the speaker (see fig. 13, item 1316; col. 9, lines 12-27), wherein the shield case includes at least one ventilation hole having a size that does not affect the shielding performance, said ventilation hole provided on a face the shield case in close proximity and opposite to a rear of the speaker (see fig. 13, item 1320; col. 9, lines 12-27), and wherein compressed air by the vibration of the speaker passes through the ventilation hole and propagates in a space enclosed by the shield case (see fig. 13; col. 9, lines 12-27). However, Clark fails to teach an electromagnetic shielding to shield the radio circuit from the speaker. Markow teaches this limitation in his invention (see fig. 6, item 72; col. 5, lines 23-26). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the portable radio of Clark so that it would include a electromagnetic shielding to shield the radio circuit from the speaker in order to prevent the electromagnetic radiation, generated by the speaker, from degrading the performance of the audio circuitry.

Regarding claim 6, the claim has the same limitations as that of claim 5, and therefore is interpreted and rejected for the same reason set forth in the rejection of claim 5.

Regarding claim 1, the claim has the limitations as that of claim 5, and therefore is interpreted and rejected for the same reason set forth in the rejection of claim 5.

Regarding claim 2, the combination of the teachings of Clark and Markow teaches a portable radio apparatus according to claim 1, wherein the shield member is a shield case disposed to cover the radio circuit (reference Clark, see fig. 13, item 1316; col. 9, lines 12-27; col. 8, lines 62-67).

Regarding claim 3, the combination of the teachings of Clark and Markow teaches A portable radio apparatus according to claim 1, wherein the shield member is a holder having a shape to cover the rear and sides of the speaker (see figs. 6 and 7, col. 6, lines 26-36; col. 7, lines 10-15).

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments dated 08/11/2004 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
